

Pwede pa remove ako ng purely compensation Di kasi siya applicable satin Kung nilagay nila ‘yan sa checklist babalik ko sila ng 2nd year Patii purely business, redundant na siya with self employed or profession

Tas dito pwede palagyan ako ng option na not applicable? Yung iba kasi customers are freelancers like me, so nag wwork sila remotely Iba kasi yung if nag llease sila ng space for business pwedeng pero owned pala nila lugar, pwedeng wfh lang sila ganon

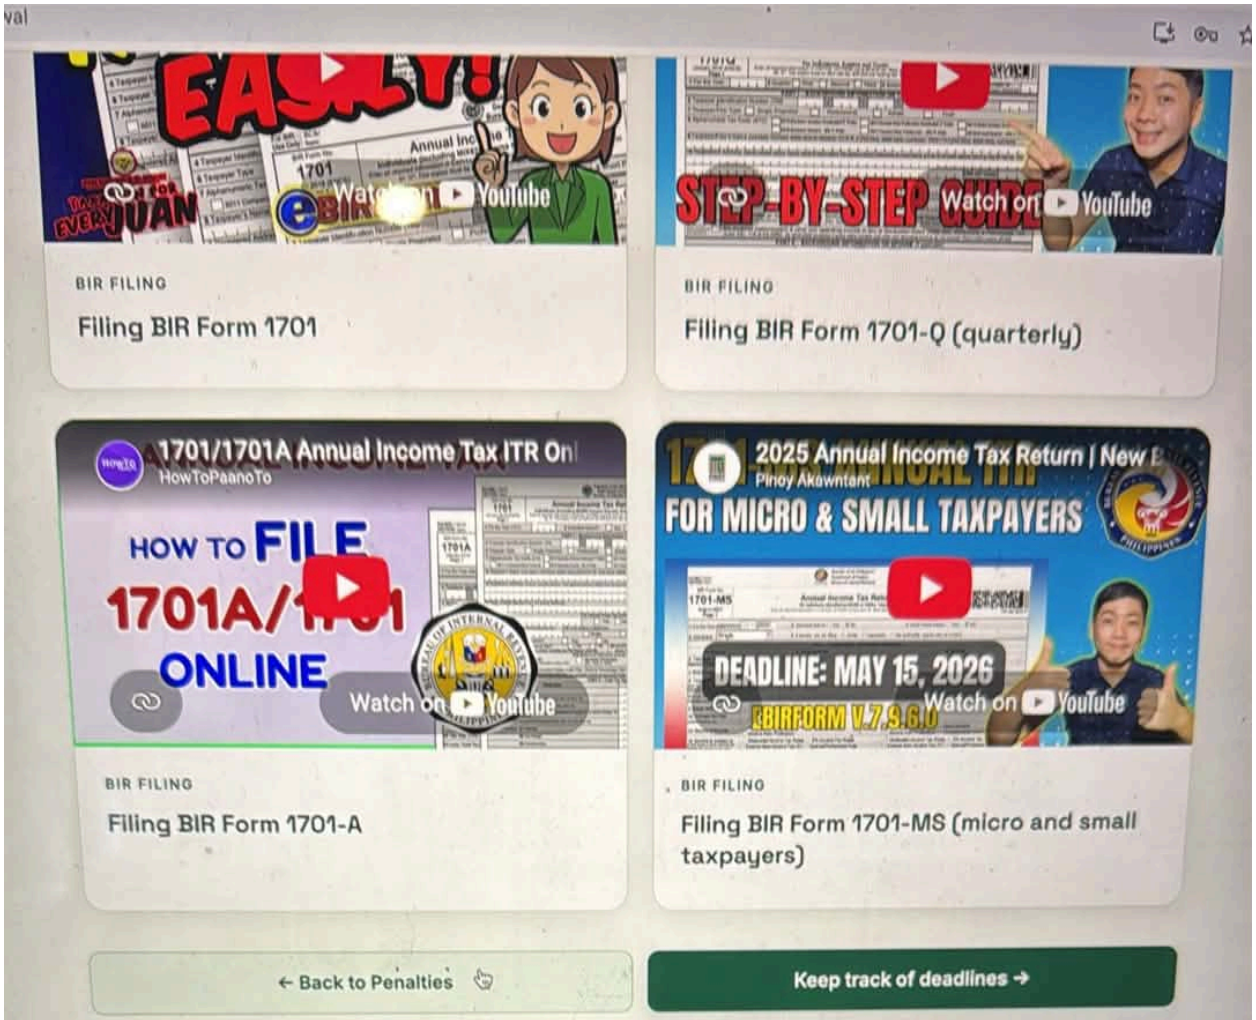

Tas dito sa expenses Raia Pwede sales lang dyan tapos dagdag tayo one step pa Parang choose tax option Di kasi automatic na 8% ang kapag micro, they have options lang Kapag 8% gamit nila, sa gross yon minus 250k di applicable ang expenses Raia replied to themself

from8%//rep
Like matic ang 250k Tapos kapag graduated tax table Meron tayo 2 options for the expenses, itemized and osd

So uhh pwede ba like dagdag ng step after ng sales parang title is tax type Tapos 2 options 8%

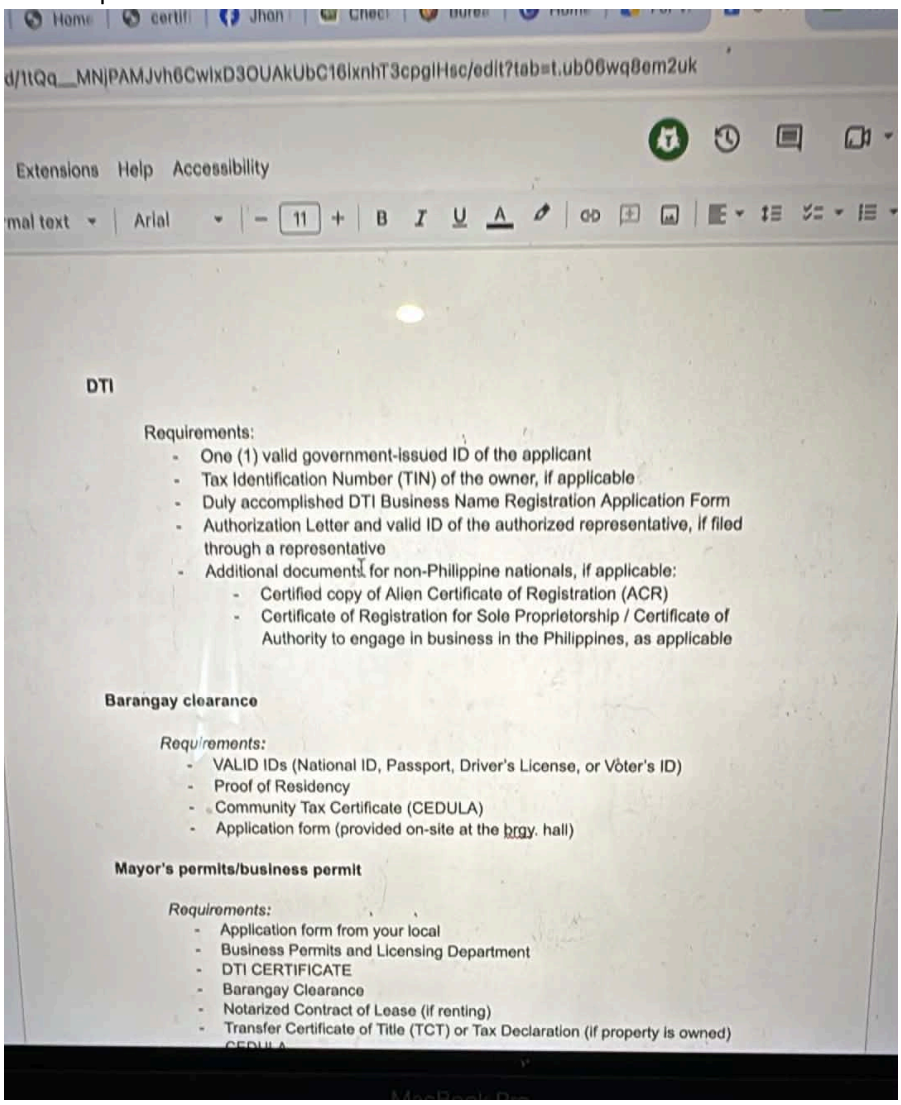

Graduated Tapos ikaw na bahala if under graduated lalabas yung osd at itemized

Or sa susunod na part na siya Tapos sa sales palagyan ako ng kapag nag 3M or more Like note sa ilalim Automatic tax table na sila U can search tax table sa google lalabas naman siya, pero need mo help ssend ko sayo

Certain violations: A 50% reduction in the applicable compromise penalty may apply to specified violations that do not involve fraud.

	Contributions	Penalties
BIR	• File required tax returns on time • Pay taxes due on time • Remit withholding taxes when applicable	• For micro and small taxpayers covered by the applicable rules: generally 10% surcharge for late filing/payment, plus applicable interest and compromise penalties. Fraudulent/false returns may carry higher penalties.

ito po yung revised na note para sa part na 'to:

The estimated amounts listed above distinguish the Mayor's Permit fee from the Local Business Tax (LBT), as these are separate charges imposed by the local government unit (LGU). The Mayor's Permit fee is a regulatory charge for the issuance of a permit to operate, while the Local Business Tax is generally based on the business's gross sales or receipts for existing businesses, or capitalization for newly established businesses, subject to the applicable local revenue code. Other fees, such as zoning clearance, sanitary permit, health certificate, and Fire Safety Inspection Certificate (FSIC) fee, may also apply. The actual amounts vary depending on the city or municipality, the nature and size of the business, and the applicable local ordinances, which may be updated or amended over time.

Note: The amounts listed above are estimates based on the respective LGUs' Revenue Codes and available official fee schedules. The Mayor's Permit fee and other applicable fees, such as zoning clearance, sanitary permit, health certificate, and Fire Safety Inspection Certificate (FSIC) fee, may vary depending on the city or municipality, size and type of business, and applicable requirements. Fees may also change due to updates or amendments to local regulations.

Ito rin po:
No registration fee is required under the Ease of Paying Taxes (EOPT) Act. The cost of the books of accounts may vary depending on the type and number of books required. BIR-Printed Invoices (BPI) may be used by new business registrants during their first year of operation or until the invoices are fully consumed, whichever comes first. Beginning in the second year, taxpayers are generally required to secure an Authority to Print (ATP) for their own principal invoices, unless they qualify for the applicable exception allowing continued use of BIR-printed invoices. The cost of privately printed invoices depends on the rates charged by BIR-accredited printers.

Note: No registration fee is required under the EOPT Act. The cost of the book of accounts may vary based on the type and number of books required. BIR-Printed Invoice (BPI) prices may vary per Revenue District Office (RDO) but should not exceed the procurement printing cost of the respective Revenue Region. The cost of an own invoice will depend on the price based on the accredited BIR printer.
